and effect devolution of powers and decentralisation of authority. For this purpose, the Government intends to pursue a two track policy. On the first track, the recommendations of the Sarkaria Commission on which there is already a broad consensus, will be implemented through legislation and administrative action as appropriate. On the second track, the Government proposes to appoint a High Level Committee to review and update the recommendations of the Sarkaria Commission and look into the vital question of devolution of financial powers from the Central Government to the State Governments.

Division of Delhi into Nine Districts

417. SHRI O.P. KOHLI: Will the Minister of HOME AFFAIRS be pleased to state:

(a) whether the proposals from the Government of Delhi to carve out nine Districts and 27 Sub-Divisions have been pending with the Ministry for long time;

(b) if so, since when and the steps taken to clear the same; and

(c) whether the decentralisation of the vast administrative structure likely to take at the door steps of the people of Delhi besides benefiting them?

THE MINISTER OF STATE IN THE MINISTRY OF HOME AFFAIRS (SHRI MOHD. MAQBOOL DAR): (a) to (c) In order to decentralise the administrative structure of National Capital Territory of Delhi, a proposal to create nine districts is in an advanced stage of consideration. The proposal in its present form was received from the Government of National Capital Territory of Delhi in 1994. The objective of decentralisation is, inter-alia, to provide a compact and manageable district, to provide the common citizen a ready access to the administration for redressal of his grievances and to make the administration more responsive.

Hotline Connection with Kremlin
